More than half of the mail from the soldiers nowadays arrives from Germany and the news to be drawn from the cards and letters would indicate their complete well being while doing guard duty and in nearly all cases they speak of the polite freatment they are receiving from German civilians. Another thing often noted is the complete absence of signs of suffering by war in the Rhine Valley and it is likely that this rich region did not suffer acutely.

tors of the Brooklyn Chamber of Comterday, the letter which the chamber's health and sanitation committee has ad-dressed to Mayor John F. Hylan, urging immediate action on the garbage disposal problem, was approved by the board. The letter is signed by all of the members of the committee, of which Dr. William S. Hubbard is chairman. The committee recently made a report to the Board of Estimate urging the adoption of the reduction of disposing of garbage in place of the incinerator method, which was favored by Mayor Hylan and Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner. In this letter to the Mayor the committee calls his attention dumped at sea, that warm weather is approaching and declares that the pres-ent city administration is making no It is also declared by the committee that dumping garbage at sea is too ex-pensive ,as it costs $350 every time a scow makes a trip with $00 tons of garbage, or some 42 cents a ton

One hundred members of the National Garment Retailers Association will meet in the Warldorf to-day at the invitation of their president, Frank Simon, to launch their nation wide campaign for the repeal of the luxury tax. The entire bill will be discussed and its most vexactious points selected as a basis for an immediate intensive campaign.

Drugs and Chemical Speculation.

With the possibility of a shortage of many drug and chemical products, speculators are buying large supplies with a view to holding materials of a certain class for higher prices, according to Drug and Chemical Markets this week.

It is reported that consumers are buying crude drugs in much larger lots than during the last few months. Essential oils are quiet. Prices of heavy chemicals are finer. There is a good demand for acetic acid of high test and the price is higher. Producers of caustic soda and soda ash refuse to meet the open market price at which second hands are selling small lots. There is a good business in sulphuric cid, but supplies are large. Bieaching powder is weak.

demand for fine grade hosiery, purchasing in other lines is said to lack interest with buyers for large wholesale and retail houses. Manufacturers in Paterson report that mercerized lines are especially active and interest is increasing.

It is believed the lack of cotton yarn will cause quotations to go even higher when knitters have to go into the market for new supplies.

In the cheap grades of cotton hosiery there is much neglect reported.
